Pastoral Council - Reaching out with hope!

The pastoral council are anxious to reach out with hope amidst these days of heightened restrictions and increased concern regarding the spread of the coronavirus – we want to help in any way that we can. We are particularly concerned about families who are already coping with the effects of the virus and are stressed by its effects – if there is any support that we can offer please let us know. To all who feel vulnerable and those who are finding the necessary isolation difficult – we can arrange telephone contact and socially distanced visits if necessary. It is crucially important that despite the restrictions that our parishioners, indeed everyone in our community, receive the support that they need.

“Ar scáth a chéile a mhaireann na daoine,” is an Irish saying that translates literally as “People live in each other’s shadows.” Perhaps it was never more important for us to be conscious of the needs of others. Please feel free to contact any member of the Pastoral Council if we can assist in any way – the details are as follows:
